

SAPLING

Charlotte Call and Caspar Williams are thrilled to present Waterways, Sapling's first exhibition.

Waterways is curated as an itinerant exhibition, executed as a walk in May 2021, featuring artworks displayed along the path of the lost River Tyburn. Included in the exhibition are artists Lily Ashley, Sol Bailey Barker, Rosie Marks, Angus McCrum, Pietro Moretti, Orfeo Tagiuri and Io Worthington.

Waterways traces the course of the River Tyburn. Culverted - bricked over to make room for London's expansion - in 1750, the river still runs below ground in pipes and tunnels, from its source Hampstead, through Regent's Park and Marylebone, and down to St James's, when it splits into streams which make up Thorney Island, where Westminster Abbey stands.

In Waterways, the lost river's hidden flow into the Thames mirrors the idea of intimate histories joining an individual's complete identity, like tributaries.

Visit www.sapling.gallery from 20 May to view the exhibition.

For further information and image requests please contact:

Charlotte Call: charlotte@sapling.com

Caspar Williams: caspar@sapling.com

@ sapling__